Special message to the TMI family

The Board of Directors and the Executive Director at The Monroe Institute would like to let everyone in our TMI family know of some exciting new developments, both at The Monroe Institute home in Virginia, and around the world as well!

The registrations for TMI programs continue to grow rapidly. In fact we have seen a 34% growth in 2013 attendance compared to the same 5-month period last year. For the first time in TMI's history we have had two Gateway Voyage Programs going on at the same time - one at RMR and one at Nancy Penn - and we have had Gateways running concurrently in Virginia twice so far this year.

Walter Stock, Board Chairman

Due to overwhelming interest, we have just added another Remote Viewing Program for August 17-23. Remote Viewer #1 Joe McMoneagle is now facilitating this eye-opening course.

This year we also introduced a Dowsing Program for the first time. Led by Raymon Grace, a veteran dowser famous world-wide within the dowsing community, feedback has been more than positive.

In addition, we have been working on enhancing our SAM technology. After several months of testing and tuning by our new Director of Technology, Bob Holbrook, we are launching a pilot program of the new Explorer Imperative program in June. We are looking forward to getting the results of this SAM 2.0 technology soon.

Coming in the fall is a pilot program for a Lucid Dreaming course. We know that this is an area of great interest among TMI participants and we anticipate a great outcome from this program. It is being designed and developed by Thomas Hasenberger in Germany and Luigi Sciambarella in England.

We are expanding the availability of our Residential programs with new offerings around the globe: Beth Vaughan in Texas and California; Thomas Hasenberger in Germany; Michael Velasquez in Latin America; Luigi Sciambarella in England and Morocco; Shri and Nikate Khaitan in India; and Carl Osterberg in Sweden. For more details have a look at the Outreach facilitators page.

We continue to grow interest in TMI through Open House mini-programs, which have been a resounding success bringing in many new members to the TMI family, and through TV shows such as the Unexplained. In August, TMI will start appearing in short spots on PBS TV around the US. Created through a Martin Sheen project in the category of Spirituality and Wellness, these short films will also appear on at least one major channel.

With the substantial growth in programs and participants, and also tight controls on spending, Carol, our Executive Director, and her staff have managed to greatly improve our financial situation, at the same time as updating the facility. This provides TMI with a solid financial base for the present. It also provides us with the resources to invest in more programs, events, and facilities to springboard us into the future.

Other initiatives are underway to bring some very different TMI technology to the world (including an upcoming TMI Online Program, the first of which is being created in support of our Global Outreach).

Additional exciting projects and research are currently in design and development for 2014. These will bring the chance to attract many hundreds of new participants to take part in some very new and very different initiatives! Announcements and details will follow in coming months!

The TMI Board of Directors congratulates Carol and her excellent staff for all their hard work and dedication. Carol and the staff are energized and in high spirits with all the new programs and new participants at TMI. Some of the staff have recently attended some (well-deserved) TMI programs, including the Gateway Voyage, graduate programs and the dowsing program and they have really enjoyed them!

Carol and the Board would like to join in challenging all of the members of our TMI Family to bring the word of our new energy and new programs to the wider world.

In the spirit of Bob Monroe and his last words, let's "get it out there", and do it with heart. Together let's see what love can do!

Signed,

Board of Directors
